

St. Peter's Caversham
The Pebble

2 June 2013

Corpus Christi

At Mass (2)

This great occasion started long ago
In an Upper Room. Here Christ's own blood
Is present once again. The priest will show
The Little Round to be our daily food,
We pause in what we do.

Every day. Our marveling to prayer
Nothing matters but this Holy Meal,
The angels bow and time can disappear
As we gaze and simply want to kneel
To show our faith. We're near

Eternity and every bad thing done
By us we're sorry for. Our hearts are made
Bethlehems for God the Father's Son
Who is God and wants us unafraid
And only see what's true.

Every moment of enchantment we've
Ever known joy here is present and
Our best love is shown when we receive
God so simply. We can understand
Less than we believe.

Parish News

Today's sermon is entitled "Until the Lord Comes," and focuses on the verse in the 1Corinthians reading which reveals the way in which we anticipate living in the future glory of the Kingdom of God each time we celebrate the Eucharist.

Rescheduling Gore Last week's snow caused the rescheduling of the sixth Caversham lecture to this coming Tuesday. The Vicar will conclude his series on framers of Anglican identity by talking about Charles Gore. One of the most inspiring churchmen of his generation, Gore paved the way for Anglo-Catholicism to occupy the high ground of the Church of England in the mid twentieth century. He cured Anglo-Catholicism of many of its blind spots, and helped initiate the third phase of the Oxford movement, that of liberal Anglo-Catholicism. But he who was such an inspiring prophet struggled in the role of Bishop. A PowerPoint presentation will accompany this lecture.

Friendship group The Friendship group will meet on Tuesday 18 June at 12 noon for lunch at St Barnabas. Cost $10.

Fellowship group The Fellowship group will meet at St Barnabas for a midwinter lunch on Tuesday 25 June at 12 noon. Cost $10. All are welcome to attend the 11 am Eucharist in the St Barnabas chapel before both these luncheons.

Brass cleaning There will be brass cleaning at 1 pm on Friday 28 June. As many helpers as possible would be appreciated.

Thursday Services in hall The onset of winter means that from now on the Thursday 10 am Service will be in the lounge.

Our Patronal festival is not far away now with Choral Evensong beginning the celebrations on Saturday 29 June at 5 pm, followed by a potluck meal. Our guest preacher on Sunday 30 June will be the Revd Jonathan Hicks, a Deacon, currently residing in and helping out at the Port Chalmers parish, while he completes his PHD at the Otago theology department. Next year Jonathan will return to the Solomons to teach in the Theological College there. Jonathan is the son of American missionary parents who were based in the Solomons for most of their ministry.

Melrose singers

NEXT Saturday 8 June, at 1.30 pm Dunedin's Melrose Singers, conducted by Nicole Batchelar and accompanied by Jonathan Drummond, will present a concert in St Peter's. This fine ensemble performed in the Parish centre two years ago to great acclaim.

Wardens meeting The Vicar will meet with the Wardens on Wednesday 12 June. Please mention to Tubby or Kate any matters you want raised at that meeting.

Organ Music: Throughout June the organ postludes at the 10.30 am service will be drawn from the Dutch tradition of music interpreting verses of psalms. This is an integral part of a centuries old tradition and continues to produce music of great beauty. Feike Asma who wrote today's Psalm prelude was one of the most distinguished organists of the 20th century.
