All Souls

Home is where one starts from

Home is where one starts from. As we grow older
The world becomes stranger, the pattern more complicated
Of dead and living. Not the intense moment
Isolated, with no before and after,
But a lifetime burning in every moment
And not the lifetime of one man only
But of old stones that cannot be deciphered.
There is a time for the evening under starlight,
A time for the evening under lamplight
(The evening with the photograph album).
Love is most nearly itself
When here and now cease to matter.
Old men ought to be explorers
Here or there does not matter
We must be still and still moving
Into another intensity
For a further union, a deeper communion
Through the dark cold and the empty desolation
The wave cry, the wind cry, the vast waters
Of the petrel and the porpoise. In my end is my beginning.

*T.S. Eliot (1888 - 1965)
from "East Coker", Four Quartets*

Anticipating the Armistice Day Service Our Armistice Day Service will be next Sunday 12 November. We have obtained the services of Ralph Miller, Trumpet Principal of the Dunedin Symphony Orchestra to play the Last Post and Reveille. Do you have photos of family members who served in the Great War? If so would you feel able to lend them to the Vicar so they can be displayed in a suitable Church setting.
