The Pebble

Sunday November 13, 2022
Remembrance Sunday

*They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.*

From 'For the Fallen' Lawrence Binyon.

From the Vicar

This Sunday is the third Sunday that reminds us of who we are and what it is to be 'a living sacrifice'. All of us have experienced times of difficulty and heartache, but it's not the enduring that brings honour to God. It is the way in which we learn, grow and use the difficulties to make, not only our lives, but the lives of others better. I know a young man who experienced three theatres of war before he was thirty. The horrors and destruction he witnessed damaged him. He lost more friends after the conflicts, through suicide, and watched families struggle. This young man reached out and was supported by family, friends and professional help for a few years. As he began to heal, he engaged with others who were experiencing the same trauma. He is now instrumental in providing tangible support across the country. Love isn't easy, and sometimes it costs us dearly, however as I look at my son with his beautiful wife and their child, I praise God that he looked forward to helping others and in doing so, was saved.

Christ chose to die on the cross for us. It wasn't the nails that held Him, it was His love for us, while we were still sinners. True love and sacrifice is an outward looking activity and not always an easy choice, but the alternative truly leads to death.
