From the Vicar.

A few months ago a person bought some rather unique plates at a sale and later discovered that they were valuable art pieces worth thousands of dollars. On Friday I was looking for tiered cake plates, but there were none to be found. I did however, find a very tarnished tiered stand. I paid the money and walked out rather pleased with myself. I boasted of my purchase to the next shop owner, and he asked to look at it, and found the sterling stamp. It is solid silver and was used at our High Tea.

There were a lot of special and beautiful things used yesterday, but we are even more special and beautiful. The Bible tells us that our faith is more precious than gold, (1 Peter 1:7) and that we have been bought by Christ's blood.(1 Cor. 16:19) I pray we don't get distracted by the outward appearances of people but look for the priceless worth of each person's faith and soul, in our family, congregation and community.
